In its wake the Planet 51 movie has left many adoring fans that want more of the fantastic motion picture and are already racing for the Planet 51 toys. The cinemas were filled with children watching the Planet 51 movie. The Planet 51 movie has garnered favorable views on many different ratings poles and many individuals have recommended it. When viewing the Planet 51 movie you will enjoy a star studded voice cast and brilliant animation. In addition new Planet 51 toys, clothing and even Planet 51 video games are being released with this new and hilarious motion picture. Nothing makes the motion picture better than being presented with fantastic toys from the Planet 51 movie.

The Planet 51 movie was filmed in Spain and directed by Jorge Blanco. The Planet 51 movie was released as of November, 20 of this year. Many people have gone to the cinemas to watch this motion picture. The Planet 51 movie follows the challenges of an astronaut being stuck on an alien planet that he did not know was lived on. The astronaut is chased around by soldiers that are terrified that he will turn them into zombies. He makes many different friends on Planet 51 who help him get back to his beloved planet of Earth. The Planet 51 movie has some very funny stories and sure to keep even the grownups in stitches.

During the height of the story, Chuck the astronaut from Earth is being chased by a few of idiotic resident military soldiers from Planet 51. Those two Planet 51 aliens are extremely naive and in no time Chuck persuades the soldiers that they are under his control. He dupes the soldiers into thinking that he control them and they have to help him escape. The Planet 51 soldiers follow him dumbly not noticing that they are being tricked. The soldiers even help cover Chuck in the video store trusting all of the things that they are being told.

The Planet 51 habitants hide Chuck and Lem, Chucks Planet 51 pal, and help them getting around many times in the Planet 51 movie but ultimately General Grawl, the hard nosed general, catches up to them. The friends are seen at a costume event. Chuck is easy to notice among all the other soldiers, as he has the United States Flag on his outfit. General Grawl has a blunt attitude towards Chuck as he does not want to be a zombie and has no desire to deal with Chuck or anyone else from Earth for that matter. He has his soldiers imprison Chuck and the crew. He has Professor Kripple look at all involved and his suggestion is to dissect everyone's brains, thinking that Chuck had turned everyone into a zombie. Chuck, not wanting Lem to go through this seemed like he released Lem from his zombie spell. This is enough to sway Kripple and General Grawl that Lem is not a zombie and they let him go. They catch Chuck and Rover as well as the two soldiers who still believe that they are zombies.

Later on in the Planet 51 movie, when Lem and his crew are captured by the soldiers to Base 9, which is Planet 51 hidden base, the screen depicts the two soldiers brains passing by. As the movie continues you see the two soldiers chatting like nothing happened endeavoring to sip drinks. They were not able to find their lips. This adds a moment of hilarity to the motion picture. You also see many different soldiers on the Planet 51 Base 9 as well.

As the Planet 51 movie goes on, Chuck, who is took to be interviewed by General Grawl has a chain of command in the room with them. He tells Chuck that he cannot flee because there is a important plot. If he budges, one soldier will fire at the other, the next soldier will fire at the other, so on and so forth until they reach the last guy who is supposed to electrocute everyone. This leads to the soldiers all growing bewildered and a huge fight ensues. Needless to say those soldiers get shot at and electrocuted making the General very discontented. He then orders the soldiers to take Chuck away to have his brain taken out. Luckily for Chuck he is freed and they all live happily ever after, even General Grawl.

The Planet 51 movie is a wonderful motion picture for any boy or girl and adult as well. When your little child sees this motion picture, they are sure to want some of the Planet 51 toys that are being sold with it, especially the boys will like soldiers and the Military truck and tank toy. Since the Planet 51 movie it is a new motion picture, not a whole lot of toys are for sale but there are many that are out. One of the greatest toys out is the 3 inch figure soldier. You can find those by doing a search online for Planet 51 3 inch figure soldiers. Those will be fantastic for your child to play with as the figurines are copies of the soldiers found on Planet 51.
