

Eco Trentino Holidays - Having Fun with Nature

There are a lot of ways to spend your holidays in Trentino and one of them is through spending eco holidays. Skiing and other snow sports is not just what Trentino Holidays offer but they also take pride in showing people their beautiful sceneries. To protect the beauty of Trentino, most hotels and places follow eco-saving measures that amazed people and became one of the reasons why they choose to have an Eco Trentino holiday.

Certain criteria are being followed by different hotels in Trentino so that they can be considered as an accommodation suitable for eco holidays. A minimum of sixty percent of a hotel's lighting should be used and water saving taps should also be available upon request of a tourist who would want to spend an eco holiday. If you want to spend an eco holiday in Trentino, you should check whether the hotel you will be staying is following the criteria established.

Information about the environment in Trentino should be available since you will be using them for the entire eco holiday. Trails and walkways are mostly available and tourists are amazed by how well it is constructed. You and your family and friends will enjoy hiking in the mountains and enjoy the views of lakes and with random memorabilia from World War I left behind. Eco holidays are best spent during spring, summer, and autumn months where the weather in Trentino is perfect.

A lot of nature parks are already available in Trentino. The Stelvio Natural Park boasts of its high, snow capped mountains which elevates 3,900 meters high. The Stelvio Natural Park is home to tons of animals which roam freely around the park. The animals include deers, owls, foxes, squirrels, and eagles which normally roam around the skies. The park has three visitor centers that every tourist should visit. These centers will educate you with the environment in Trentino and its rich and wonderful history.

The Adamello-Brenta Nature Park is also another must see because of its beautiful lakes and pastures. Like most nature parks in Trentino, the vast areas of the park are protected from unwanted hunters. The Adamello-Brenta Nature park is actually the first ever nature park in Italy which was expanded in 1987.

There still are a lot of Nature parks that you can choose from when spending an eco-holiday in Trentino. Having information about all parks available and other eco holiday related activities will surely leave you happy and amazed with nature's beauty.
