

Nursing Scrubs

General Medical Scrubs, Nursing Scrubs, Plus Size scrubs, and more

The market for general medical scrubs has greatly expanded in the last several years. Formerly the attire only for surgeons, now every staff member of a hospital generally wears a set of scrubs. Many doctors' offices, dentist offices and other environments also call for the use of scrubs as their uniform. Additionally, even outside of these settings altogether, scrubs are starting to gain traction in the day-to-day life of many people.

Scrubs were once just available in solid colors and only in a few shades, but now are available in a diverse array of styles, patterns and designs. If you're looking for a new set of scrubs, whatever the reason may be, you'll be able to find what you need here on our store page.

Why Scrubs are so Important

While you probably realize that general medical scrubs are the core uniform and the required dress code for surgeons and other hospital staff, you might not realize why. Nursing scrubs and other scrubs were instituted as a way to help maintain and enhance the cleanliness of the environment. The minimalist attire offers few places for germs to hide and therefore help hospitals stay as clean and safe as possible.

The spread of diseases and other infections is greatly reduced in this fashion. Additionally, general medical scrubs are easy to clean and cheap to replace if damaged or stained, making them ideal for the rigorous demands of the hospital environment.

Popular Brands of Scrubs

There are many different brands of scrubs, each serving the same purpose but providing a slightly different end product. Landau scrubs, for example, are known to have a classic style, look and feel while Dickies scrubs tend to have trendier and more fashionable fabric cuts and colors. Cherokee scrubs are another mainstay and are designed with maximum comfort and convenience in mind.

Today, scrubs come in a variety of colors, styles and patterns, a far cry from even a few years ago when the standard light green or blue was all you could find. This enables hospitals to separate the staff from different departments and also allows individuals to show more personal influence on their attire. Many fashionable and aesthetically pleasing patterns and custom designs are now available to please even the ficklest of tastes.

Scrubs Outside of the Hospital

There are many other types of scrubs that are produced today beyond the general medical scrubs that we all recognize. Scrubs are growing in popularity for use outside of the hospital in everyday life. Many people are turning to scrubs for comfortable workout or lounge attire, or to use as pajamas. Additionally, many scrubs are designed solely with fashion in mind, allowing you to combine the comfort of a set of scrubs with a look you will be proud to wear in any social setting.

Whether you are interested in general medical scrubs, nursing scrubs or scrubs to lounge around in, we have the full selection that you need. So please feel free to browse around our store, we hope to provide exactly what you're seeking.
